The Arizona gives everyone in your family a space to call their own, with six different living areas spread around the home. You can enjoy working in the home office while the kids retreat to the rumpus room and living area, or spend quality time together in the free-flowing spaces surrounding the kitchen. When those balmy summer days arrive, simply throw open the doors to your alfresco area and create a wide open space that's perfect for entertaining friends or unwinding after a busy week. It's the ideal retreat for busy families that want to feel right at home.
